What's New in the AnyStart?

• Organize your desktop easily by dragging and dropping files, folders or shortcuts to the any startup menu • AnyStart menu helps you to get started with your PC quickly by creating a customized menu • Have a simple and clean desktop with an easy to use and manage feature AnyStart is an integrated download manager which is developed on the Avazu Team. It brings an amazing feature that enables you to redirect the download link provided by any download page to the specific folder of your choice. Due to the ability to change the download folder location, this feature can be applied to any download websites. You can change the current download folder location by clicking the redirection button from the download bar. The other simple feature is that all downloaded files will be saved in a pre-selected directory named "My Downloads" by default. And if you want to change the name of the downloaded file to your name, then you need to save it with the name you want. The whole features are described as follows. AnyStart Description: • Allows you to redirect the download links given by any page and change the destination • You can save the downloaded file to the specified folder. • AnyStart is an integrated download manager, which will automatically save your downloads • Inbuilt download manager • Allows you to change the destination of the downloaded file to a specific folder by default • Save downloaded files to a desired location and name. The newly developed AnyMute is the first ever Alerts notification tool that gives users a real-time context for their emails. It doesn't require any installation and does not require user's consent for sending the alerts. The application will display a Pop up or Toast notification in the desktop when an email arrives. You can selectively send a custom notification to the user depending upon the message you want to communicate. For example, you can use the application to notify a user to an important email from your company, or can be used to notify a user of a personal email from a friend. AnyMute Description: • Alerts your user when an email arrives • Display a popup or Toast notification in the desktop • No need of any installation. • No user's consent required for sending the alerts. • User can select the type of the notification • We have updated AnyMute application. • You can now add custom message to the pop up notification. • Bug fixes and
