The screen saver sets you into the world of Mario, where you can complete different games. You have to control the sun or moon through two paths. In the first path you have to reach the finish of the path in time and with enough power. In the second path you have to solve a maze. Overview: This was the first time I coded for Flash. I've improved a lot with every new project I make. Game Features: Story: The screen saver is based on the game Super Mario Bros Z. In the first path you have to reach the finish before the moon rises. In the second path you have to solve a maze. In both paths you have 4 characters, the Queen of Woosh (the first one), the King of Woosh (the second one), the Princess of Wooosh (the third one) and the Dummied one, that appears as moon, but is a character that can't fight. Gameplay: 2 paths, 4 characters, a maze Screensaver Features: 60 seconds of screensaver. 2 Characters, 3 Paths and many Moons and Stars. You can customize the screensaver by adding a lot of characters and obstacles. Credits: God grant me the strength to keep working hard and never give up on something I love :) Firaxis have developed the best playing strategy game ever created. The GIA breaks the rule of strategy games by not having perfect game AI. It in fact might be described as thinking. But then, before you reject that as a load of theory, think again. GIA will play better than most people, including yourself. GIA have built a proper strategy game. The object is to eventually defeat all enemies. But the strategy lies in deciding which enemy to attack next. Battles will be long and drawn out and AI help will have a critical factor in how you win. The GIA will give you, as the player, a very tough role to play. In order to evolve, the GIA will collect weapons and experience. GIA will give you a far better understanding of the game than any game guide. The GIA requires no mouse or keyboard, as it is played with the arrow keys and you will be tied into the game. When you game starts, you will be in a safe area, with a safe area being part of the game. When you are damaged, the game stops and a prompt appears on screen. The GIA will
