A collection of bullet art and animation files, including but not limited to: sprites, objects, and particles. There are some more files that are not included, but some of them (such as 3D models) could still be useful for the next few updates and additions. Features* All assets and characters included in the Collection are 100% original* All files included are flat ttf/obj/vrml and are already in Unity3d project files* Files are made as high-quality as possible to allow developers to easily add/subtract elements from them The Legend of Monkey King 3D is an interesting adventure, which begins with a person named Andy, who is about to discover the final secrets of how a powerful creature is attached to the legendary city of Shen Zhen. Andy, on his trip, begins to face a series of problems, such as local villagers, and three bandits, in order to achieve his goal. ReviewsThis is a cool little thing! I like the ambiance that you've put into it. It reminded me of RuneScape or EverQuest in how relaxing it can be. The only thing I noticed was that if you run, you can't press (on a laptop) the down arrow. However, I like that it gives you a choice of sprint, running and jumping. It's a nice touch. Good enough for the first demo, but doesn't quite have a full atmosphere or feel like there's a lot of world to get lost in. Bit of a shame. Good enough for the first demo, but doesn't quite have a full atmosphere or feel like there's a lot of world to get lost in. Bit of a shame.ReviewsA very solid first experience for an early VR project from the team behind Manifold Garden. It felt more like a demo than a game. There's a lot to do and there's a lot of room to go. Additionally, there's a cool story mode that's pretty fun and novel. This game gives me hope for the future of VR games as we start to see what the possibilities are. Good enough for the first demo, but doesn't quite have a full atmosphere or feel like there's a lot of world to get lost in. Bit of a shame.VR Game NewsA virtual reality game with elements of detective stories and action. You'll walk around the park, explore the mysterious objects there, and talk to the inhabitant himself. Although the game has some tense moments, the atmosphere is

You can choose from three types of equipment for your ship, and enjoy different strategies for each. INVINCIBLE TIME: Falling in the game cannot kill you. If you make a mistake, just hit the space key and wait until the invincible time expires, and you can resurrect. RESURRECTING EVERY TIME Resurrects at the start of the stage you died in. SHOP Your shop will provide you with either complementary equipment (when you complete a level, you will receive additional equipments and EXP) or items to purchase. If you wish to purchase, you can add your friends list, chat with them, and exchange equipments and items. MULTIPLAYER Three players can play at the same time. [System requirements] OS Windows XP SP3/7/8/10/x64 CPU 2GHz or more RAM 256MB or more Video Memory 512MB or moreQ: Why does the compiler reject this contrived iterator cast? Consider the following code: #include #include struct Foo { Foo() = default; Foo( Foo const& ) = delete; Foo( Foo&& ) = delete; Foo& operator=( Foo const& ) = delete; Foo& operator=( Foo&& ) = delete; }; int main() { std::shared_ptr p{std::make_shared()}; std::shared_ptr q{std::static_pointer_cast(p)}; assert( q.get() != p.get() ); } My compiler, gcc-6.2.1, says error: no matching function for call to ‘Foo::Foo(std::shared_ptr&)’ std::shared_ptr q{std::static_pointer_cast(p)};
