In a risky and bizarre attempt to attract donors, Bernie Sanders said he was thrilled to have locked up the support of "so many billionaires." Sanders also repeated his promise that he wouldn't accept super PAC money, but this morning he said: "Folks, I have to tell you, I'm feeling good about this campaign. I am happy that we have received so many contributions from so many billionaires." Then he added this: "But just make no mistake. And I will say this to the Republican candidates: We will do everything we can to stand by that pledge, because we want to go after that money." Plotting long bone growth by anisotropic diffusion filtering. Trabecular bone is composed of lamellar structures with typical length scales of 100 μm to a few mm. The diffusion of water can be estimated from its diffusion tensor. In this work, we present a technique that enables the recovery of the bone volume fractions, absolute lengths and orientations of individual lamellae by filtering back from the diffusion tensor. To validate the technique, we compare it with a direct method that gives equivalent results and an approach based on deterministic anisotropic diffusion (DAD), which has been d0c515b9f4
