ESET NOD32 Antivirus Key is the comprehensive antivirus package.ALLEN PARK -- Coming off an impressive start to training camp, Detroit Lions defensive end Kerry Hyder made it clear he isn't going anywhere. Not after a whirlwind first week of training camp, in which he reached out to offensive linemen, ran routes on defense, and asked to spend the remainder of training camp with the entire team. But he's also not going to play for someone else. After receiving some interest from other teams in the offseason -- reports indicated the Lions were looking to trade the second-round pick they received for Hyder -- he's made it clear in interviews this week that he wants to stay in Detroit. "I love this team and I love this city," Hyder said. "I wanted to be here, so that's what I'm going to do." To maintain that focus, Hyder made it clear he's not going to rock the boat. He's not going to complain about anything his coach is telling him, or anything his teammates are asking him to do. "I'm not going to be negative," he said. "I'm going to do what I'm asked to do. I'm going to work hard." Hyder's a third-year defensive end and second-year starter who signed a five-year, $18.5 million contract in May. He worked at both end and tackle, and he's expected to compete with Haloti Ngata this season for a starting role. That experience is the reason the Lions invested a second-round pick in him in the 2013 NFL draft, and the reason they gave him money this offseason. The competition this summer is expected to be intense, but Hyder knows he's got the potential to be part of the solution. "I think if I play my best, when I do my best, and if I

Ramblings of his existence and maybe some his friends. Thursday, February 24, 2012 Four Ways I'm Changing My Life These are a few things I've been doing to start changing my life. 1. I'm getting off the computer and going outside for walks. 2. I'm planning out my next trip to Europe. 3. I'm getting the itch to travel again. 4. I'm starting to exercise more (never too late to start). Nothing earth-shattering, I'm just doing little things to change my life for the better. Academy of the Pacific Rim The Academy of the Pacific Rim (APR) is a private, non-profit organization created to promote the Pacific Rim region as an international education hub. The academy has taken a major role in promoting the Western Pacific region as a point of educational achievement and a place of international exchange. History The Academy of the Pacific Rim was founded in 2000 as a non-profit, international organization focused on promoting the Pacific Rim region as a hub for educational exchange and international cooperation. Although its initial mission was to focus on educational benefits for students in the Pacific Rim, the Academy's program expanded to cover other benefits including economic opportunities for businesses from the
