Growing up in central New Jersey, my family had lived in areas that were some of the most socially deprived areas in the state, which meant I was exposed to a lot of poverty, racism and discrimination. I am a firm believer that everyone should have the opportunity to achieve economic success and freedom to think, express themselves and live their lives with dignity and love. While the social and economic issues in this country are directly affecting the quality of life for millions of Americans, I believe that we can change the status quo by developing legislation that promotes the ideals of the American Dream. We must never forget that the United States of America was built on the foundation of ideals like this one!Q: How can I access the WSUS item in the script running in a powershell command?
