Sep 13, 2013A Q: How to implement Elasticsearch with Spring Boot? In ElasticSearch there is a possibility to set an HTTP Proxy on startup. I noticed that not all servers include this by default. How can we use this with Spring Boot? We have a custom Application, which library should we use to achieve this? A: You should use Spring boot's HostnameBasedResolver ( it also uses the Proxy + addAddressResolver( new HostnameBasedResolver() ) { @Override public ServerAddress resolve(HttpHost host) throws UnknownHostException { return new InetSocketAddress(host.getHostName(), host.getPort()); } } ) Regards The Senate Judiciary Committee is asking the FBI to reveal information on the Obama Justice Department's investigation of Hillary Clinton. But the FBI is refusing to comply with the request. The committee is demanding the FBI reveal the existence and content of the interview it has conducted with FBI Director James Comey and his interview with Clinton. But Acting Director of the FBI Andrew McCabe told Senate Judiciary Chairman Chuck Grassley in a letter this week, "These interviews are exempt from disclosure under 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(7)(A) as law enforcement records." The letter does not specify which interview the FBI is referring to. It is plausible, though, that the Comey interview would be part of the FBI's recent probe into the mishandling of the Clinton emails scandal. In a letter sent Monday, the Judiciary Committee also sought details about the FBI's review of Clinton's email server from the State Department, the FBI and any agencies that have helped the FBI in

Testicular cancer is the most common malignancy among young men. In Denmark from January 1, 1977 to December 31, 1995, the testicular cancer incidence rate increased from 1.1/100,000 to 3.5/100,000 among males. The observed number of cases in 1,936,976 males was 87. From 1987 to 1995 the number of testicular cancers diagnosed in Denmark increased by 27.2%, while at the same time the number of deaths from testicular cancer decreased by 26.5% (P = 0.024). During the same period the population increased by 24.4%. Standardized incidence and mortality rates per 100,000 males increased from 1.6 in 1977 to 6.9 in 1995, mainly explained by the birth cohorts born in the 1930s. The standardized death rate in this age group was 0.8/100,000 in 1975 and 0.4/100,000 in 1995. In testicular cancer the birth cohort has the highest incidence until the age of 65 and the birth cohort of 1920-1929 has the highest standardized incidence rate. The present data suggest that the risk of testicular cancer increases exponentially with increasing age. In Denmark, from 1979 to 1995, 1,208 (0.58%) of the 2,031 testicular cancer deaths among men of European origin were registered in the Danish Cancer Registry. The age-standardized testicular cancer mortality rate in Denmark was 15.1/100,000, which is lower than the rates reported in the literature, and less than half of the expected number. The mortality figures are also influenced by mortality from other causes in men below the age of 40, but the
