It was packed, as it has every year for the past three summers. The crowd was split between regulars and newcomers, but all were eager to celebrate the start of the summer season. "I'm really excited," said one man who has lived in the area for about three years. "This is the first year I've made it to this," said the woman who sat a couple of stools down from him. "It's great. There's lots of people here." "For me, I come every year because I get to see the fireworks," she said, "and I love the music." The celebration kicked off with live music and a performance by a local high school marching band, followed by speeches and the ceremonial lighting of the 20-foot-tall fireworks. "It's been fun. A lot of us moved to the area, so it's a great way to meet people
