I have an  $m$  by  $n$  matrix  $a$  and an integer  $k \geq 0$ . Now I want to find the  $k$ th smallest entry of vector  $1:n$ . This can be achieved by  $id = a(k,:)$  Now, is there any function available to do this in MATLAB?

A: You can use sort function to sort (and select  $k$  of that) largest elements of your matrix  $a$ , like this: `matrix = rand(1,3);`
`[~,~,id]=sort(matrix,'descend');` Which gives you: `id = 4 1 1` in your case the column index goes `1:3` The present disclosure relates to a pressure sensor, a temperature sensor, a pressure and temperature sensor having a function of measuring both a pressure and a temperature, and a pressure and temperature measuring method. As an example of a conventional pressure sensor, a sensor having a structure in which a measurement pressure applied to a diaphragm-type vibrating reed is changed in accordance with a temperature, a voltage, etc., is known. The conventional sensor is provided with a reed on a diaphragm (a vibration diaphragm) as a sensing portion, and vibrates the reed by the influence of a change in pressure, thereby detecting a change in voltage of a bridge circuit. Thus, the sensor can measure pressure by detecting the change in the voltage. A conventional temperature sensor is provided with a number of reeds and operates the reeds in accordance with a change in temperature, thereby detecting the number of the reeds. } } } break; default: if

The Shad'O soundtrack is the soundtrack to the 2017 video game Shad'O: The Shadiest Odyssey! It was composed by Marc Brownstein and released digitally on April 1, 2017 through Nervous Records. This is a follow up to Tiny Brains: Original Score, released in 2011, and was a sequel to Brownstein's 2015 soundtrack for the game Tiny Brains, which featured fellow The Mars Volta members Omar Rodríguez-López and Cedric Bixler-Zavala. While Tiny Brains (2015) is a platform game with different themes compared to its original precursor, Shad'O (2017) is a side-scrolling action/platform game with numerous musical breaks in all its levels, and is the debut work by Brownstein for Nervous Records. Overview In Shad'O, players assume the role of an African-American super-powered character named "Robot Blue" who fights the evil warlord "Lord Daniel". Inspired by video games like Castlevania, Mega Man and Super Ghouls 'n Ghosts, it was first announced at the Game Developer's Conference 2016 where development on the project began, and announced for release date on April 8, 2017 on Steam, PS4, Xbox One, Switch and PC. In celebration of the game's release, a music video for "Say the Name" was released on April 15, 2017 with its video directed by Connor Simpson. The producer and composer for Shad'O is Marc Brownstein, who also did the soundtracks to Tiny Brains (2015) and Yhivie (2016) from Nervous Records. The idea of creating a soundtrack came to Brownstein after composing, creating and recording the soundtrack for the game itself. "I wanted [the game's] music to feel like a suit of armor for me to feel safe playing [the game]. And then [I] wanted to create a soundtrack that embodies my conceptualization of Samurai-Kamenbukan as a side-scrolling action-platformer", Brownstein explains. For this title, Brownstein's sound palette was tweaked to be a bit more complex than the previous Tiny Brains soundtrack, incorporating more rhythm and minor chord progressions, as well as a hair more fuzz and distortion, a more
