It has been more than a year since we've seen each other. Where are the children, Shirley and David? Where are they. Three of us were there. Roger was there for us, always there for us. My son Steve and his wife, Jim, arrived on the 13th of June of 2001. I found them playing happily in the back yard on the 17th. Steve had just received his Ph.D. in economics and we were so excited. Most of the week-end they spent with Jim and me enjoying themselves. Bob Masinga and I visited on the 24th of June. Bob came from an ancestral village in Rwanda that he'd stayed in for six years. He found it "appealing" as he said. He and I saw the local people. I was tickled to see them plowing and doing the daily work
