The gods of the Holy Realm mysteriously vanished, and the established rule of the Gods was lost. The Eighth Elder God Hrothgar, had once been part of the Holy Realm, but was taken away by that ancient evil. Faced with such a tragedy, we, the Elden Ring, sought to restore the Holy Realm. We sacrificed our own purest souls and more than a thousand people in the Lands Between, and arrived at our destination... but in the midst of our destruction we failed to meet the Eighth Elder God Hrothgar. We experienced a terrible loss and mourned for what might have been. But... We had a task that we were created to perform. That ancient evil still roams the land, and for that sake we are called to wield the power of the Elden Ring and the title of Elden Lord. The Elden Ring is the pinnacle of the Elden world. Along with the Elden Lord, players can control the fate of the Holy Realm. ♦Gameplay♦ The game is a turn-based role playing game where you fight monsters, monsters, and monsters. However, they did not see a duck outside. So, they waited. As the temperature continued to drop, they shivered and tried to keep warm with the remnants of their packs. Eventually, the wind ceased, and the ominous gray sky turned into an inky blackness. Their furnace was the open sky, and they were very grateful. They speculated that perhaps they had passed out. A few hours passed by and they felt they were better. They gathered wood and built a fire. Using small bits of clothing, they began shivering again. The sight of their own wan and emaciated faces, even in the firelight, suddenly seemed as if it were a hallucination. They had to tell each other they were still alive! After a few days, the men began to feel better and considered themselves out of danger, despite the freezing temperatures. Below is a list of cold weather survival tips: 1. Know your limits. Many people who head outdoors in cold weather are usually unprepared and end up ill, injured, or simply get cold to the point they give up. Do not be one of them! A good rule is to stay warm or get warmer, not cold or get colder. The best way to keep warm is to stay dry. That's why most of the tips below cover your basic water needs. 2. Drink lots of water. If you're already suffering from dehydration, you'll need to drink even more water. For most people, keeping a water bottle at the ready is a great idea. 3. Eat. If you don't eat much, you'll lose your strength. 4. Stay dry. Cover up! Wet clothing doesn't insulate you and will only increase your discomfort. Make sure to get yourself a good waterproof windbreaker or jacket. Make sure it fits you well and that you can button it up so it's not flapping. Also, if you plan to go hiking in the mountains or on the top of a snow-covered hill, take a few layers of shirts and sweaters with you.
