Farpoint is a first-person sci-fi space simulation game with an emphasis on story and an innovative space combat experience. In addition to the standard exploration, combat, and survival game features, Farpoint introduces a sophisticated story engine and a complex, multi-tiered combat system. An Imperial military research center on the surface of an enemy planet is suddenly breached by a hostile force, and the only survivors are two scientists. They must evade the attackers and escape the facility, determined to unlock the secrets of an exotic military technology that crashed to Earth. In their journey, they will explore alien environments, solve puzzles, and make critical decisions. The simple act of simply staying alive will require their full attention. VASTARIUS CORPORATION Established: 2008 Location: New Braunfels, Texas Hours of Operation: Monday-Friday, 10:00 AM-8:00 PM Saturday-Sunday, 10:00 AM-4:00 PM Our Mission: The Vastarien Corporation was established in 2008 with a simple goal in mind. We have built an organization that is passionate about space, space science, space exploration, and space exploration projects. We have no affiliation with any governments or non-profits, and have no plans to start any for the foreseeable future. We simply want to put the needs and desires of the space community above all else and continue to build a home for those who love the space program. Working with Farspace.org, we are celebrating the 25th anniversary of the first successful encounter with an alien being. What Will You Experience?
