My products in my grid are wide, rather than tall. I've tried altering the values in the image_tag block and using image_tag in my 'columns' block but nothing seems to work. I want it so that when someone clicks on a product, the image appears. And the below in my 'product' block "> My grid " class="product-box" style="margin: 0 auto;"> A: The issue here is that image_tag generates a tag, which is going to be a block-level element. Instead you want the actual element in its own line. You can do this by wrapping your image in a , like so:
