The present invention relates to an information recording-reproducing apparatus which is suited for storing data in a non-contact manner. A method for recording information on a magnetic tape in a non-contact manner has been proposed in JP-A-7-9539 (the term "JP-A" as used herein means an "unexamined published Japanese patent application"). In this proposed method, the magnetic tape is arranged to be automatically moved to an information recording zone in a tape player. The information is recorded on the information recording surface of the tape by a recording head located above the moving tape. In this method, the tape can be moved to the information recording zone without contacting the tape. Therefore, the magnetic tape can be moved smoothly to the information recording zone. However, if the moving tape is stopped at the information recording zone, it becomes impossible to record new data on the information recording surface of the tape. Thus, this known method is not applicable to the information recording-reproducing apparatus. The present disclosure relates to a fixing apparatus and an 595f342e71
