We normally stay at this hotel on a business trip. The previous comment about the room is true. The room was ok and we were able to sleep but there were indications of a damp smell in the room. We did ask for our room to be moved to a higher floor which was done the next day.... I stay here every so often when I am in Baltimore. They let the dogs stay in the high floors and have service dogs so we had no problems with the area at all. There is always a small charge per dog, but it's worth it. I always find there is a room available. This hotel is in a very good location for both business and leisure travelers. (It's only 1 block from the Inner Harbor.) We were there for a business trip and the room was spacious and clean. It was quiet in the evening and a nice hot shower. I have stayed at this hotel on several occasions, including on the night of the Baltimore Riots. I have always found the staff to be helpful and friendly. This was our first stay during a long road trip, and we were very pleased with the hotel room, bathroom and bed. The room was very clean and the bath... The hotel staff were extremely friendly and the room was clean and close to Baltimore center. It was a great stay.
