“In FIFA Ultimate Team, we have a simple goal – create the ultimate player,” said David Rutter, Executive Producer of FIFA Ultimate Team on Windows 10. “With the addition of HyperMotion Technology, we are able to capture not just the movements of one player, but of all the players on the pitch. By capturing every single movement of the players, we are able to create an incredibly detailed data-set that will allow us to create players that match their on-pitch persona.” Motion Capture Performance and Utilisation in FIFA Ultimate Team During the “8th Coming” match, a large number of lower body, upper body, and head movements were recorded. When combined with the high-intensity movements recorded during gameplay, these data sets give a detailed picture of the movement mechanics of a player. In addition, all tracking data is combined into a highly detailed model of individual players. Many aspects of player movement such as acceleration, angular velocities, and stepping actions are tracked and exploited in the game. This combined player movement data is then combined with the movements of other players on the pitch, providing additional depth of control that mimics the players on the pitch in terms of their individual movement. In game, this player model is used to control the movements of virtual players on the pitch. This provides the opportunity to play the game in a completely different way to traditional, more casual FIFA games. For example, in a game of FIFA Ultimate Team, players who score a goal will generally jump in the air and stick a leg out in celebration. The more unusual movement patterns of these players are then realised in the game, giving fans and players the opportunity to experience this more authentic brand of the sport. In addition to capturing the movements of the players, all controls are augmented by a number of advanced visual technologies. For example, the ball receives a realistic surface treatment, has enhanced ball physics, and responds realistically to the player's weight transfer. Additional dimensions of movement are also added to the player, such as the player's ability to jump. FIFA 20 Performance Optimisations HyperMotion Technology allows FIFA Ultimate Team to engage in many new gameplay styles and play styles that weren't previously possible. It was clear, that there was still room to make performance improvements to the main game and this list is a result of that work. Player Movement Reduced artificial locomotion The first step towards

Features Key:

- New Master League – Play from week one of the new UEFA Champions League campaign and select from the best of the rest, as you compete for high-profile tournaments like the FIFA Club World Cup.
- New Moments in World Football – Watch legendary goals unfold in-game, take part in beautiful ‘Big Moments’ and experience pre-match tension as you sit in on coaches’ huddles and managers’ training grounds.
- New Challenges – Strengthen your bond with your club, with a series of unique challenges and tasks that help your players develop and progress. And with the introduction of FIFA Moments, you can relive a memorable moment in FIFA history as it happens in-game.
- FIFA Authentic Motion Tracks – Includes a series of authentic motion capture sessions filmed at one of the most intense football matches ever made. The game uses this data to power Sports Interactive’s industry-first ‘HyperMotion Technology', which utilises the player movements and tackles of the real pros who were filmed and manages to take full advantage of what these players are capable of doing in the sport.

MOTION GRAPHICS High Definition Graphics - FIFA has always delivered fluid animations, textures, and detail, but FIFA 22 is taking things to a new level. A new lighting engine brings higher-resolution face models to every player, while the pitch and stadium backgrounds are rendered with variable draw distances to allow for even more realistic movements.

DYNAMIC GRAPHICS - The most immersive, cinematic presentation of any sports game. FIFA 18 contains a new branching narrative that will change the way you experience your FIFA games. The quality of motion and animation will create a more immersive, cinematic experience that is on par with the most high-end movies and shows.

SOUND EFFECTS - With powerful, high fidelity sound, FIFA delivers thrilling in-game commentary. Additional features include crowd chants, post-match interviews, stadium atmospheres and music changes.

What's new:

- AI advice - Max let's you fine-tune three of the main aspects of your team's AI, Attack, Defence and Attacking. Before, you needed to fine tune only one at a time.
- Goalkeeper AI - Your goalkeepers will now react in a more natural and realistic way after a save. If a goalie saves straight into a teammate's feet, for instance, that player could very well power play or switch off during the subsequent corner.
- Goalkeeper positioning - Your goalies will now play on the goal line when defending set-pieces, and they'll try to prevent the ball being played out from offside.
- Misc. gameplay improvements - Fixing a number of gameplay issues was a big part of this year's campaign. We've also made token and goal celebrations easier to set up and add variety to the game. Tokens are now colour coded for easier identification and animations have been improved - the ball is now brought to the feet of the players more realistically, collisions are deeper, and now players bump into each other more naturally.

- Tournament mode - You can now play multiple seasons of your favourite major tournaments. These now span multiple years, meaning you'll have the chance to play through some epic matches along the way.
- Keeper replays - The ability to save and replay any of your goalkeepers match has arrived.
- New Nintendo Switch Pro Controller enhancements - A total of nine enhancements, including "Ball Hold" and "Detach Attack" modes, have been added for the new console, letting you do more in-game action.
- 3 more Vision Pro players - Don't you just love FIFA Ultimate Team?
- Over 30 brand new players, all the way from Brazil, France, Spain, Germany and many more nationalities.
- Over 300 cards, including new cards like long-snapper Thierry Henry.
- Additional female faces, hairstyles, and body styles for all major national teams. Look out for Ronaldo, Lionel Messi, Wayne Rooney
