So yes, with Visual Studio 2013 Express on Windows 8.1, you will be able to unlock your phone and deploy the XAP file to your phone. ðŸ˜ˆ! It's pretty funny. I thought I had the full version. I got the solution from here: <http://www.windowscentral.com/how-to-unlock-your-phone-that-needs-the-x-ap-firmware-for-windows-81/>. However, when I tried to use it, the phone couldn't generate the XAP file, so I just went ahead and used another phone. But since I got the solution from there, I tried it again. I tried compiling the XAP file and it couldn't generate it, so I made a new one.
