DVDRip XviDQ: How to debug python Flask I've been trying to implement a Flask api to talk to a MongoDB in production, however I can't seem to figure out why the following code doesn't work. Any tips?

import json
import logging
import pymongo
import time
from flask import Flask, request, Response app = Flask(__name__)
logging.basicConfig(format='%(levelname)s - %(message)s', level=logging.INFO)
app.debug = True
@app.route('/')
def index():
    #print 'start index'
    obj = pymongo.connection.coll1.find_one({}, {'$natural' : 0})
    if obj:
        print 'start find_one'
        time.sleep(1)
        time.sleep(0.5)
        print 'end find_one'
        time.sleep(0.5)
        return str(obj)
    else:
        print 'no data'
        return None
app.run()
```

However when I run it on my server it just keeps printing the data to the console.

If I add an error handler, it does get to it import json import logging import pymongo import time from flask import Flask, request, Response app = Flask(__name__)
logging.basicConfig(format='%(levelname)s - %(message)s', level=logging.INFO) app.debug =
True @app.route('/') def index(): #print'start index' obj = pymongo.connection.coll1.find_one({}, {'$natural' : 0})
