The pre-recorded television interview, which was set up by the White House ahead of the World Cup, but interrupted as the president arrives on the red carpet, shows Mr Trump declaring: "Good evening, everybody. Good evening, thank you. "And before we start, we have a major story coming. Just ahead, we have Miss Universe Alicia Machado. "She passed a major fitness test. She was 186 pounds before she became Miss Universe, beautiful woman, right now she weighed 118. She's a 10. "So congratulations to Miss Universe, very proud of her, and the people I represent. "Good evening." AFP This was the prerecorded interview which took place before the World Cup began The president then said he was "going to be much happier" for Alicia Machado, as the former beauty queen had recently come off a "body transformation" and "looked like a woman". Miss Machado, who lost 60lbs in the past year, rejected Donald Trump's comments during the interview, saying: "It's a lie." She added: "I'm here working, I'm working to change the attitude of people towards the sport." Alicia Machado, left, has said Trump's claim she had a "body transformation" is a lie Getty President Donald Trump is in Russia for the start of the World Cup Getty President Donald Trump is at the World Cup
